

I would like to express my disappointment with the FCC. I want to continue receiving weather and traffice related news via my XM radio. It's an outstanding and timely service that has saved me time during my commutes on numerous occasions. Admonition: I have a weatherband capable radio that uses public channels to deliver weather but XM does it better!